

BIOGRAPHY

J. Greg Smith,
EVM/Schedule Specialist, Project Management Team
Jacobs Sverdrup

Greg Smith is an EVM/Schedule Specialist on the Project Management Team for Jacobs Sverdrup. For the past two and a half years, Greg has worked at Marshall Space Flight Center (MSFC) in Huntsville, AL for NASA as a member of the Project Support Team in the Project Analysis Office. In the past 20 years, Greg has worked in a variety of industries. His industrial experience in the project management & control areas includes nuclear, fossil power, fibers and films, defense, and aerospace. Job assignments during this time have afforded opportunities for experience in: environmental, health, and safety; procurement; subcontract administration and management; risk management; schedule development; cost engineering and estimating; material management; information technology; analysis and assessments; and training and personnel development.

NASA Project Management Conference